Project Milestone One
Due Friday, September 30, 2016

By Friday, September 30, please do the following.

- Choose a provisional topic. This will likely change and shift, but hopefully it won't change too much. Let me know what your topic is. Include some question(s) that you're thinking of and say a bit about why you are choosing this topic. A paragraph or two will suffice.
- Create an account on mendeley or some other bibliography manager if you prefer. Use this to manage references for your projects.
- Find at least five papers that might be relevant to some aspect of your topic/question. Send me this list of references, and include two or three sentences about each: what the paper is about, what might be interesting about it, etc. You don't need to read the entire paper to do this.

By Friday you should send me two things (as one document):

1. A few paragraphs about your topic
2. A list of five papers with a few sentences about each.
