

Physics III
Homework One
Due Friday 4 April, 2014

Chapter 2, Styer:

1. 1
2. 2
3. 3
4. 4 (use a ruler)
5. 5
6. On page 10, Styer writes “This story illustrates that ‘explanation’ means ‘explanation in terms of something more fundamental.’”
 - Give an example of something about which this statement is true, and something about which this statement is false. Write a few sentences about each, clearly explaining your reasoning. OR
 - If you think Styer’s view is always correct or always incorrect, write one or two paragraphs explaining why you think so. OR
 - If you disagree with Styer for some even more fundamental reasons, write one or two paragraphs explaining why you think so.

If you don’t have super handwriting, please type this up. But please don’t email it to me. Attach a hard copy to your assignment. Thanks.
